

Growing Acres is dedicated to developing, strengthening and inspiring a local food culture that improves the overall wellbeing of the region. That includes the physical, mental, economic, environmental, spiritual, and social aspects that all relate in some way to living in an area with a healthy food culture.

You may use this form to submit your abstract to connect@growingacres.org or use the form located on our website at growingacres.org/abstract.

This abstract can be used to apply for the annual conference or for a different workshop date. Growing Acres will connect with you on available exhibitor space, food options and additional information when needed.
